The main water pipe leading the water to the river blew out a joint just at the edge of the river, on Saturday evening. Had we not the new steel pipe across the bridge, this side of the river would be without water again. Thanks to the foresight of the water company we are spared this annoyance and can go on as usual.

Mr. Sol. Harris, who is the exclusive agent for this vicinity, announces that he has on hand the largest assortment of Butterick's Patterns, for any age, and of the newest styles of garments. He will send patterns to any section of country postage paid on receipt of price. Address him, No. 214, St. Clair street, Frankfort, Ky., for circulars free.

Editor of the Roundabout:

In the outset, except my thanks for allowing me space in your paper to vindicate myself before my fellow-citizens, for you are the only one who has accorded me that privilege. The Courier-Journal, after publishing all the falsehoods and damaging statements against me that was possible for their correspondent from this place to gather up concerning the case that caused my dismissal from the police force refused, me space in their paper to lay the facts before the public—the facts as they occurred—and do I feel willing for the verdict of the Council to go before the public without the facts surrounding it going with it, they are substantially as follows: On last Saturday night, between 12 and 1 o'clock, Frank Egbert got into an altercation with a negro man, named Jake Dudley, and cut him in the face with a pistol. He was not present at the incident but in company with Mr. George Smith, who was temporarily on duty, I arrived at the place a few minutes after he was wounded, and learned from the man cut that it was Egbert who did it. We immediately started to hunt for him and came upon him in company with 4 or 5 of his friends he was in front of the crowd going from us with his pistol in his hand. I started through the crowd toward him when they scattered and he turned and leveled his pistol at me, telling me not to advance on him that he had made up his mind to die before he would go to jail for what he was right in what he had done. I advanced and he still holding the drop on me continued to back, this was kept up for more than a square when I was satisfied that I could not arrest him under the circumstances, and as a soldier discreet man I knew it was wiser to draw my weapon. And could I have used my weapon, it would have only been to commit murder, knowing the man as I did and he under the influence of liquor. Then there was nothing left for me to do but do as I did, or leave him and head him off somewhere else and take advantage of him and shoot him down like I would a mad-dog, but thank God my better instincts have taught me to be too many, too honorable and too brave to commit a deed like that even though the law might have held me guiltless for doing so. I was satisfied as a sensible man that it was impossible to arrest him that night without killing him, pursue what course I would, and that I was unwilling to do, for I did not think the crime he had been guilty of would warrant such an action on my part, nor do I want my fellow-man's blood on my hands under any circumstances if I can prevent it. Some who held me guilty of failing to discharge my duty say that I should have pursued him until my brother officer could have left me and awakened up and summoned enough citizens at midnight to have surrounded and arrested him, but they would have had to find as far as telling where we would have been by the time assistance could have been gathered together. I did not want to run a roundabout, it would have been to murder him and that I have said I was not honorable and too brave to do myself. But great many things will suggest themselves to our mind that we might have done that would have been advisable now, that would not be a man's mind placed under the circumstances I was on that night. But for failing to arrest Egbert on that night under the foregoing circumstances I was dismissed from the police force by the vote of all of the Councilmen present at the investigation excepting Councilman Ford who voted against it. When I was elected to this position I took an oath to faithfully discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability and with these facts before them I leave my case with an impartial public to say whether I have kept inviolate that oath. I am respectfully yours,

P. F. SMITH.

The gloomy fears, desponding views and weariness, that many complain of would disappear were the blood made pure and healthy before reaching the delicate vessels of the brain. Ayer's Sarsaparilla purifies and vitalizes the blood; thus promoting health of body and sanity of mind.

The sales for the week just closed amount to 2471 hhds, with receipts of 2,900 hhds. for the same period. Sales since the 1st of January amount to 38,298 hhds. The condition of Burley tobacco this week has been irregular with a lower tendency.

Receipts are very large, and the stocks are gradually increasing. Reports from the growing crops were never more favorable, and the indications now are that we will not only have a large, but a good crop. The following quotations fairly represent our market for Burley tobacco:

CENTENNIAL ROOMS,
FRANKFORT, KY., Sept. 1, 1886.
To all Federal, State, County, and Municipal Officers in Kentucky, and all Citizens and Societies in this and Adjoining States:

It has been the pleasure of the Frankfort Centennial Association to entrust to us as a Committee of Invitation the agreeable duty of extending to you a most cordial invitation to be present and enjoy the hospitality of the City of Frankfort, and take part in the ceremonies attending the celebration of the first Centennial of Kentucky's Capital City on WEDNESDAY, the 6th of October, 1886. Our pleasure is augmented by the thought that this occasion will afford a favorable opportunity for the renewal of so many friendships of bygone years, and enable Frankfort, in some manner at least, to recognize and return some of the kindnesses and courtesies bestowed upon her by the good people of the State during the century just passed away. The time being too short to permit us to address each one of you by mail, we hope to be excused for extending this invitation through the courtesy of the press.

The following queer and ancient document was handed to us by Mrs. F. B. Lyons. This is the document from which arose the old saw about "Symmes' Hole." He was a noted character in his day:

LIGHT GIVES LIGHT, TO LIGHT DISCOVER—"AD INFINITUM."
ST. LOUIS (Missouri Territory),
North America, April 10, A. D. 1818.
TO ALL THE WORLD!

I declare the earth is hollow, and habitable within; containing a number of solid concentric spheres, one within the other, and that it is open at the poles 12 or 16 degrees; I pledge my life in support of this truth, and am ready to explore the hollow, if the world will support and aid me in the undertaking.

JNO. CLEVELAND SYMMES,
Of Ohio, late Captain of Infantry.
N. B.—I have ready for the press a Treatise on the principles of matter, wherein I show proofs of the above positions, account for various phenomena, and disclose Doctor Darwin's Golden Secret.

My terms are the patronage of this and the new worlds.

I dedicate to my Wife and her ten Children.

I select Doctor S. L. Mitchell, Sir H. Davy and Baron Alex. de Humboldt as my protectors.
I seek and hired brave companions, well equipped, to start from Siberia in the fall season, with Reindeer and slays, on the ice of the frozen sea; I engage me and warm and rich land, stocked with thrifty vegetables and animals, if not men, on reaching one degree northward of latitude 82; we will return in the succeeding spring.

Notice.

A meeting of the citizens of Penk's Mill and Bloomington precincts will be held at Penk's Mill on Saturday afternoon, September 11th, to make arrangements to take part in the celebration of the Centennial Anniversary of the city of Frankfort on the 6th of October. Everybody requested to attend.

The musical extravaganza, "Around the World," may be classified as a dramatic gem. The performance is remarkably pure in tone; musical, both instrumental and vocal. The characters are all actual, being taken from every-day life; the artists are experienced and finished. There is no play like it on the stage, in construction, plot and purposes, and the entire performance is as successful as it is original.—Press.

Gen. Grant's Life.

A wonderfully new book, as entertaining as any novel, is Richardson's "A Personal History of Ulysses S. Grant," revised and completed by Mr. Fletcher, of the Hartford "Courant." A volume of 630 octavo pages, with 36 fine engravings, illustrating scenes in which the late General figured. This is the original and genuine book published under this peculiar title. Any other book bearing the same title is an imitation, and is copied more or less from the Richardson book.

The work bears strong evidence of the controlling hand of the General, and of the valuable assistance which he rendered in its preparation, and therefore is really of more value and practical use than the General's own "Memoirs," which will cover but comparatively small portions of his life, while Richardson's book covers the entire career of the great soldier, and sells for about one-third the price. No better author ever appeared before the public than Mr. Richardson, who has always been noted for his careful and accurate writings, and the General is to be congratulated in having a biographer of so great ability. We can heartily advise any who want a reliable, first-class "Life of Gen. Grant," to purchase the new "Personal History," by Mr. Albert D. Richardson. In preference to any other. The book ought to be in every household.

Proper Treatment for Coughs.

That the reader may fully understand what constitutes a good Cough and Lung Syrup, we will say that Tar and Wild Cherry is the basis of the best remedies yet discovered. These ingredients with several others equally as efficacious enter largely into Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup, thus making it one of the most reliable now on the market. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Samples free. Sold by Hughes & Chiles.

A full supply of sugar, coffee, tea, spices, and all other general grocery supplies can be had cheap at John Driscoll's. Go and see him.

AYER'S Hair Vigor cures baldness, restores youthfulness and color to faded and gray hair. It restores the hair roots and color glands. It rejuvenates the scalp and cleanses it. It restores to the hair, that, either by reason of age or diseases of the scalp, has become dry, harsh and brittle, a pliancy and glossy softness of extreme beauty. There is no dye in Ayer's Hair Vigor and the good does is by the hair's own growth. It imparts to the follicles, and the cleanliness and healthfulness of the condition in which it maintains the scalp.

AYER'S Hair Vigor renews the hair. Ayer's Hair Vigor is the best cure known for Baldness, Hair Loss, Itching Humors, Tetter Sores, Tordid Follicles, and all other diseases of the scalp that cause the falling of the hair, and to fading. Nothing cleanses the hair of the scalp of dandruff so perfectly, and so effectively prevents its return, as AYER'S Hair Vigor. In addition to the curative and restorative virtues peculiar to Ayer's Hair Vigor, it is by far the cleanest hair-dressing made. It causes the hair to grow thick and long, and keeps it always soft and glossy.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

Contains no deleterious ingredients. Its use prevents all scalp diseases, secures against the hair growing thin or gray, and surely cures all diseases that it does not originate.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.

Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, SEPTEMBER 4, 1886.

The City Council have dispensed the services of all the men at the fire engine house except Eugene Phillips, Wat Nichols and Phil Gols. We are inclined to think that this is rather doubtful economy.

The Kentucky Central Railroad is running an excursion rate during the Cincinnati Exposition, which opened on Wednesday last. It will only cost you $2.65 for the round trip from Lexington to Cincinnati, with tickets good for twenty days from day of sale. That is a very low rate indeed.

The oldest fair in the State is that held at Paris. It begins this year on the 7th day of this month and continues to the 11th. Its attractions are very full and should call forth a large attendance. The Kentucky Central Railroad sells tickets for round trip from Lexington for seventy-five cents.

The steamer Grace Morris, with her palace barge, left the Custom House Wharf on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock p. m., and had aboard fully two hundred and fifty passengers and Schneider's Cornet Band. The excursion party returned in time to attend evening services at all the churches, well pleased with their trip.

Jas. Andrew Scott, Esq., has been commissioned by the President of the Centennial Association to raise a regiment of cavalry to parade Oct. 6th. Messrs. Geo. Quarles, of Peak's Mill; M. B. Lucas, of the Forks of Elkhorn; O. B. Polgrove, of Bald Knob; Robt. Anderson, of Benson; and William Armstrong, of Bridgeport, have been selected as captains to recruit companies in their respective precincts. Sabers and carbines will probably be furnished by the Adjutant General. "Scott's Cavalry" promises to be quite a feature in the coming celebration.

Death of John W. McClure, Esq.

On Wednesday last, at 1 o'clock, there passed over into the better land as gentle and noble a spirit as ever breathed in man.

John Winston McClure was born at Owenton, Kentucky, November 23d, 1852, and was consequently in his 34th year. His father dying when he was a small boy, he removed with his mother, Mrs. Agnes H. McClure, to this city. Here he grew to man's estate, winning the respect and confidence of all by his manly and unselfish bearing. January 29, 1873, he united with the Presbyterian Church upon a public profession of his faith in Christ under the pastorate of Rev. John H. Nesbitt. In April, 1875, he was united in marriage with Miss Helen H. Black, daughter of Dr. E. H. Black. She, together with two interesting daughters and a bright little boy, are left to mourn the sudden cutting down, in the prime of his manhood and in the midst of his usefulness, of the devoted husband and loving father.

Several years since he removed to Louisville, and traveled for Messrs. Sutcliffe & Owen, wholesale boot and shoe dealers.

About a year ago inflammation told that the fell destroyer—consumption—had taken hold of him. Everything that medical skill could do was done to avert the stroke, but, alas, in vain.

Like the brave boy he was, he went about his usual avocations, endeavoring to obtain an honest living for his little family. With determination unshaken he kept at work until sheer exhaustion forced him to turn aside to die. About three weeks ago he returned from Rochester, N. Y., to his brother R. K. McClure's house and was unable to leave it again.

Without a murmur, with unshrinking faith, and calmly awaiting the change, conscious to the last, he leaned his tired head on the dear Saviour's breast and went over the river to the home beyond.

The funeral services took place from the First Presbyterian Church on Friday, at 11 o'clock, and was very largely attended.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

FRANKFORT, SEPTEMBER 4, 1886.

An experienced book-keeper wishes to write up, post or balance books at night. Parties desiring the service of same will address P. O. Box 375, Frankfort, Ky.

The Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will meet in Lexington, on Thursday, Sept. 20, and will be presided over by Bishop Cyrus D. Post, D. D.

H. L. Hona, piano tuner and repairer for Messrs D. H. Baldwin & Co., is in the city, and will attend promptly to all orders left at the office, corner of Main and 1st streets.

A very perceptible shock of earthquake was felt in this city on Tuesday night, at about half after 9 o'clock. It rattled windows, gas fixtures, &c., and shook the solid walls of houses for a second or more.

Frank Egbert, who was charged with cutting Jake Dudley (having surrendered himself) was brought before Esquire J. W. Bohannon on Thursday and discharged, the evidence not warranting his being held over.

The oldest paper published in Kentucky is the Paris Citizen, being eighty years old. By an announcement in its last issue it appears that it will be merged with the True Kentuckian, and will appear hereafter as the Citizen-Kentuckian.

Rev. J. T. Hamrick, D. D., who preached here in January so acceptably, is to be the temporary supply of the South Frankfort Presbyterian Church during the absence of the pastor, Rev. Robt. E. Caldwell at Princeton Seminary this winter. Mr. Caldwell leaves Tuesday night.

To-morrow Daniel M. Gilman, a Louisville pedestrian, will undertake to walk from this city to this place, 52 miles, in twelve hours, for a purse of $75. He will start from the corner of First and Main streets in that city and follow the Shelbyville pike. He will be accompanied by a number of interested parties in buggies.

Those enterprising young merchants, Messrs. Weizel & O'Donnell, have rented Mr. P. C. Sower's new three story, stone front building, on Main street, and will remove their dry goods and notion store to that place shortly. With their facilities thus enlarged they surely can and will do a larger business. Give the boys a call.

Messrs. Richardson and Hawkins continue to deliver their unrivaled Black Italian watermelons in town. These are certainly the finest and largest melons that we have seen this season. That ten-acre patch is yielding them a handsome return. Just try one of these melons, and you will be more than satisfied as to their quality.

Prof. T. M. Turner and wife returned last week from their summer vacation. The Professor will reopen Dudley Institute on Monday, September 13th, in place of the 6th as heretofore announced. This prosperous school will resume its sessions at the place where it was originally founded—the old Hanna property, in South Frankfort, on Second, at the end of Bridge street.

The earthquake which visited our city on Tuesday night last seems to have visited almost every section of the country. It was especially severe and disastrous in its effects in Charleston, S. C., and the adjacent cities. The loss, both of life and property, was appalling. It is feared that hundreds of lives were lost in Charleston, as the place seems so demoralized that it is impossible to give even an estimate of loss either in life or property.

Miss Lizzie K. Dehoney, one of our most charming young ladies, and a former teacher at the Institute for Feeble-minded Children, was married in Louisville, on Wednesday, at the residence of her mother, by Rev. Geo. F. Bagby, to Mr. K. B. Grahm, of Olive Hill, Carter county, Kentucky. We have no acquaintance with Mr. Grahm, but we hear him highly spoken of by those who know him. Out best wishes attend the happy pair.

Rev. R. E. Caldwell will preach at the Franklin Church to-morrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Mr. Z. Taylor Collins killed a two year old heifer this week that weighed 1400 pounds and was as fat as butter.

It has been suggested, and we think appropriately, that arches of evergreens should be thrown over the city bridge on the occasion of the Centennial Celebration next month.

Win. Egbert, son of Chas. T. Egbert, Esq., who was shot by some one unknown in Texas, was brought home by his father, and is now able to go about with the assistance of a cane.

Lost.—Somewhere in the city on Friday of last week, a silver monogram with the initials "L. G." in gold, and with the owner's name on it. Finder will please return to this office and receive reward.

Officer Henry Brown on Tuesday, arrested Peyton Willingham and Jane Thompson for borrowing some hogs from John Stuart. Willingham is a former dealer of Cattle Taylor and is likely to return to his old quarters.

G. A. R.

There will be a regular meeting of Albert G. Bacon Post, Monday evening, Sept. 6th, at 7 1/2 o'clock. A full attendance is requested. By order of B. J. Lindsey, Commander, V. BERBERICH, Adjutant.

The boys in this district had better look sharp. Lightning may strike some of them next.

Mr. Simon Payne, who lives at the forks of the Versailles and Georgetown turnpikes, had a rather unexpected present last Sunday night, in the shape of a bouncing girl baby. Some heartless parents caused the little walf to be left on the platform in front of Mr. Payne's store. Mr. Payne brought the young lady to town and delivered her over to Judge Thompson. Any married folks who have no babies of their own can get a first class girl baby by calling on the Judge.

A Great Show Given Last Night by the Haverly Company.

Last night Boyd's Opera House was packed to overflowing with an audience that represented the wealth and culture of Omaha, to witness the best minstrel performance ever given in the city. To make such a declaration in relation to a purely American feature of the world's amusement after the institution has had nearly half a century of continuous popularity, would seem impossible to be well founded, especially to the those theatregoers and minstrel patrons. The statement is true, however, and the declaration was easily won by Haverly's Minstrels.

The solos and choruses in the first part were the perfection of harmony and expression in song. The jokes were new and crisp, and told in new ways. The orchestra was very artistic, and each and every act was put on the stage in that masterly and gorgeous manner so characteristic of Col. Haverly. The first part closed with a neat and highly amusing sketch entitled, "The Liverpool Club." When the specialty portion of the programme was reached each act proved to be new, and all were of much more than ordinary merit in conception and execution. Space forbids mention of each individual excellence, and where all are so clever it might seem an injustice to mention any one act or person.

Have used Tongaline in many cases of rheumatism with marked success; the most important one was that of a patient, age fifty-one, who has been a sufferer from that disease for forty years. In one of his severe attacks I prescribed Tongaline, and upon the fifth day he was able to be out, and also to attend to his business. Have given Tongaline a fair and impartial trial, and think it the best remedy I have ever found for rheumatism.

Miss Laule Yonnt spent last Saturday and Sunday visiting her parents in the Bald Knobs.

Mr. Henry Settle visited his cousins, Messrs. John and Bob Noel, of Woodlake this week.

Mr. Milton Arnold traded his brown mare, Jugler, to Mr. — Fitzgerald, for a large gray horse.

Mr. Jack Long is improving his house. Mr. Nick Graham is the contractor and carpenter.

Mr. Dan, Pickett left last week for Cuba, Illinois, to reside, to the regret of his many friends here.

Died.—At the residence of Mr. Jas. Carr, Wednesday August 24th, Mr. Ben. Wise, of consumption.

Mrs. E. M. Bates, widow of the late John C. Bates, of Pewee, is visiting relatives in this neighborhood.

Miss Nancy Gravitt is lying very ill at her residence near this place. Dr. S. F. Smith, of Frankfort, is attending her.

Tioga.

It is feared that Zeko Yocum has been with foul play. Lucifer, his nephew, is suspected.

Thanks to Mr. Warren Pulliam, of the Aperiens Springs, for his first subscription to the Record.

Bradstreet reports no failures at Tioga or Buford the past week, but stocks hold firm, with light demands.

Mr. Rance Peyton is building a mansion at New Bald Knob. His brother Neely will soon erect a business house on Main, opposite the drug store.

Mr. Horace Harrod has moved his fine first mill to Flat Creek, where a full band of adjacent whistles will not drown the music of his own shrill plier.

Mr. Noel Lee, of Bald Knob, begins to exhibit superior talent as an artist. His drawings excel anything yet seen in the public journals. As a caricaturist he has few superiors.

Mr. Eli McDaniel, late Republican candidate for judge, is ready to join the Democratic party when convinced that Democracy means that a few pets shall rule the majority against their will.

Mr. John Bell reigns at Hatton. The sovereigns of Europe command respect by the police of the town. Bell wins respect by the gentle manners, love and friendship to his fellow-men.

Dr. Adams reports an extensive practice out of town, but says that one professional visit in a century would suffice for Jacksonsville. This town is entirely too healthy for a physician with a large family.

The infant son of Mr. Warren Pulliam, but 21 years old, is a prodigy. He can dance on a table, jigs, hornpipes, and all the figures performed by a first class dancing master with marvellous agility.

The great millennium appears to the good people of Sandrift. Nearly every man, woman and child is being converted to religion through the preaching of the well known faith divine, Bro. Frazier.

Prof. Hunter has at length obtained that office of honor and trust which the enlightened masses had long sought for him. A few low-bred trustees, who stood against him to protect their obsequious teachers, begin to "believe and tremble."

Cols. Thomas B. Ford and John L. Scott, of Frankfort, may remain unhonored by the people of the present generation, but those of the next shall sing their praises when the flowers yet unborn shall be blooming upon their graves. These two non-political patriots bore with christian fortitude "the slings and scorns" of a phamphic son of hedlrim at your State Capitol. When that certain apostate synarchy had decreed to steal from the defenseless innocents a quarter of a million of their school fund, Cols. Ford and Scott, two valiant knights of honor, buckled on their whole armor, marched into the field, put the enemy to flight and disperse, and finally recaptured for the children of Kentucky over $250,000.

FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.

Don't think that we didn't feel the earthquake.

Miss Minnie Todd returned home Monday evening from a visit to friends at Versailles.

School commences over here on Monday, with the expectation of a large attendance.

Messrs. G. Alex. Robertson, John W. Gaines and son, Howard, went to the Lexington Fair Tuesday.

Bellepoint is to lose one of her most attractive young society men, Mr. John D. Zeigler, who leaves Monday next for Centre College, Danville.

Mr. Albert Crutcher paid his parents a short visit the first of this week. He informs us of his intention of locating, about the middle of next month, at Los Angeles, Cal.

Young Tracy, who was so badly injured at the Champion Saw Mill a month ago, is, through the skillful treatment of Dr. James C. Ely, going around, and is almost recovered.

It looks as if Bellepoint has started an opposition to M. A. Dauphin. This week there was a hog raised. Mr. Franklin Peas Lewis was the lucky winner. Next week there will be a fine cow raised, and so on.

Our young boys have organized a base ball club, and are ready to receive challenges from all clubs under fifteen years of age. Mattie Gaines was elected captain, Zip Merchant treasurer, and Bug Fisher secretary.

Maud B. has a remarkable record for fleetness, but her velocity is only trivial as compared with John Thompson, the comedian, who makes a tour of the world every evening. He started again last night in the good ship "Academy of Music," with a full complement of passengers, every berth being taken, and a jollier set of passengers we never saw before. They languish in moderation, and there was not a single case of seasickness during the voyage. The only serious occurrence during the trip was a few who nearly choked with laughter. As for John Thompson cannot be surpassed; his versatility is astonishing, and imitation is out of the question.

THOS. HUNTER, C. S. S. of Frankfort county.

The School Board addressed a very polite official note to the City Council at its last meeting, requesting it to order the tablet that was placed on the old school building to be replaced on one of the walls of the new building, to commemorate the time when the system of free schools was organized in this city. The records show that when the vote was taken, a large majority of the Council have said that they don't want the names of John Mason Brown, J. M. Mills, and Dennis L. Haly, those warm and staunch friends of the public school, in its gloomy days to tower on the walls of the new school building to tell the stranger who may come this way, or the future pupil who may be educated at this temple of learning, that such true friends ever lived in this community. Say, gentlemen, are you ashamed of them? If so, let it be known. Perhaps the qualified voters of the city will remember you at the next election.

THE FRANKLIN CHURCH.

The Presbytery of Louisville in connection with the Southern Assembly, through its Commissioners, which met in Shelbyville last week after hearing the petitions which had been presented in proper and regular form from the Franklin and South Frankfort churches for union into one organization.

Resolved, "That the joint petition of the two congregations be granted, and their action in the premises approved. And to the extent the members and officers of that church are transferred as such to the roll of the South Frankfort Church and incorporated therein."

The Church is now consolidated is known as "The South Frankfort Presbyterian Church."

A Child Healed.

My little daughter, at the age of five years, was afflicted with a very painful and disgusting eruption on her face that baffled the skill of the physicians. I gave her Swift's Specific, and less than one bottle cured the disease entirely.

From a Grateful Heart.

Early in October, 1884, I was taken with inflammatory rheumatism so that I was confined to my bed, and could not even move the toes on one of my feet. I could not bear to have my clothes changed or be handled in anywise. With all the remedies administered I found no relief. A friend seeing the advertisement of S. S. S. as a rheumatic cure, secured some for me. This was in February, 1885, and after taking six small bottles I noticed a change in the feeling of the limbs, and could turn over in bed almost without assistance or pain. After a dozen bottles had been used I could walk on crutches. I am now able to walk without crutches, and to do the cooking for a family of four, and nearly all the housework.

A Question

Often asked, but seldom answered satisfactorily: "Is there a remedy known to the medical profession that will allay the sufferings peculiar to women who are subject to Dysmenorrhea and its attendant discomforts?"

Ladies: There is relief for you! It has been found in

Read what an eminent physician has to say upon the subject:

"I have derived particularly gratifying results from the use of Tongalene in cases of Dysmenorrhea. In the case of a lady of remarkable condition, and a chronic sufferer from this disease, who had been driven almost to the verge of insanity by her monthly sufferings, her action has been most satisfactory. It relieved her promptly, and she now passes the time devoted thereto with but little discomfort. I could mention other instances of a similar character, but this is a remarkable case."
